You have been hired by Environment Canada as part of the elite “Sustainability Squad”. Your task is to create a poster illustrating as many different ways as possible to reduce one’s ecological footprint within a given category. Think of the largest improvement or the smallest contribution you can make that will influence our society both now and in the future.

- Clothing
- Transportation
- Water Use
- Food
- Recreation
- Living Space
- Garbage

You may use both drawings and text to reveal your thoughts on what you would do to improve the ecological footprint that you will leave behind for your children and future generations. Be as creative as you would like within the confines of the time you have. The visual appeal and the depth of the message will be the primary “look fors” during grading. The posters will be marked and displayed in the classroom.
