

The Urban Planning Process

A member of the planning department from the local government office will be presenting some basic information about the urban planning process to you. Answer the questions below as you follow along with the discussion.

1. What is urban planning?
2. Who controls where things get developed?
3. How do they show where different land uses are permitted?
4. Land use maps are quite general.... how do I know what is allowed on a specific piece of property?
5. Who does the actual construction on the land?
6. What are the steps in getting an empty field to become a residential subdivision?
